

VILLA WHITE

BALI - CANGGU

White indeed, is the defining tonality of this beautiful villa set in the heart of a small village enclave by a sacred river side in Bali. Pure, subtle and inviting throughout the pathway leading to the house porch. Breezy, elegant and summery upon entering the garden grounds. White, shaping and glamorously inviting within the heart of the house and softly embracing in the bedroom quarters. White is the house and light its atmosphere as the colour evokes.

Part of a larger estate, with a total of three villas who share the personal care and discerning treatment of the holistic spa attached to the property, the private grounds of Villa White welcome its guests with much gusto. Two large and shaded bales, indulging lounge to the right and luscious dining to the left, frame the garden on one side, both enjoying the enchanting glow of the aquamarine pool, vibrant green of the manicured lawn and bewitching arrangement of palms, frangipanis and other potted or flowering consorts. Beyond is the main house, an allegory of prosperous serenity and indulging liberality. Open the living is high ceilinged yet cosy, its seating arrangement purposely framed by languorously fluttering drapes. To one side is a casual open kitchen and informal dining setting, the entire space enjoying a great expose to the sunny garden and pool.

The house also host within its walls two bedrooms.

The master suite downstairs with luminous French doors opening onto the lawn is spacious, decorated with the noble elegance of natural textiles and warmth of the well chosen wooden floor and lovely adorning hand woven tikar mat.

Adjacent is a none less spacious semi outdoor bathroom beautifully cased in soft white Paliman stone, wonderful background to the delicate Ficus trees gracefully lit by the incisive sky light opening.

Up the stairs, the second bedrooms somewhat smaller enjoys the accompaniment of a similarly charming bathroom and benefits the luxury of its own private terrace rising above the alluring grounds.

In the depth of the garden, leaving the pool aside, a set of stairs leads to an impromptu bridge high above the river flow, and providing access to the private quarters of the guest house, hidden amidst the majestic embrace of a grand Banyan tree.

Sharing a shaded courtyard both bedrooms of the guest house a private, each with en suite outdoor bathrooms and decorated with comfort in mind as the rest of the villa, with here again a selection of furnishing with strong colonial influence and the accent note of typical Balinese textiles and craft ware.
