

VILLA DANTE

BALI - SEMINYAK

Exactly in the centre of it all, peace and serenity remains available for the well advised. Indeed sinuously leading away from the business of jalan Legian, a small side streets ushers the visitor to a few well hidden serene and unsuspected villas. One of these is villa Dante.

The sleek anonymous entrance door leaves open to wonder what one may be finding past its point. A few steps through a welcoming garden and one discovers with delight the large and open living space of this elegant three bedroom house. Urban tropics is the defining feel. the decor is a mix of primitive, organic and design elements, complimented with tribal influenced contemporary creations. Smooth terrazzo floors and white polished wall encase the space, judiciously divided in three. In its centre a large sofa benefits lovely natural light from the skylight above and inviting open view to the pool and garden. To its right stands the kitchen, equipped with all necessary utensils one may wish for and in its wake the dining table a few steps up from the flourishing grounds. To its left a slightly raised and cosy mezzanine host all the media elements.

Away from the living, by the side of the pool deck and at the back of the garden are the bedrooms.

The first two to the left of the living room, face the pool and greenery of the main garden behind. Each fitted with large double beds and lovely indoor/outdoor en suite bathrooms, their decor is sobre and elegant. Large built in cupboards lined the walls between the bedrooms and bathroom and the master bedroom, closest to the living room, enjoys as well a small alcove reserved to the desk and bookshelves.

The third is really a large private suite, perfect for guest or small family with an independent living space, fitted with a small kitchen, its sliding doors opening onto a little private garden. Adjacent is the bedroom, very similar in style and furnishing as the first two, with in its wake the en suite bathroom.
